

Department of Public Administration

Teaching Target

Aims to develop the specialized personnel, who is specialized in government's public administration, especially in terms of foreign management of public affairs, as well as foreign enterprises and administrative activities and other works. The students would have good foreign transaction processing capability, skillful proficiency in English as well as strong language skills. And they can use a variety of modern management methods and techniques to deal with the administrative management, especially in the administrative management of foreign affairs.

Teaching Staff

Currently, there are 9 teaching and research personnel, among which 4 are professors, 6 are associate professors, and 4 are lecturers.

Faculty members are:

Songyan Tao, Weixia LV, Xianggang Peng, Yufei Fu, Feng Zhao, Yi Zhang, Xuxia Zhang, Chuanhai Xin, Bohui Cheng, Jingbo Fan, Lei Guo, Si Lian, Yin Lian, Qing Wang

Degree Setting

Our college specializes in foreign administration management and foreign economic affairs management. Administrative Management (foreign administration management direction): aims to develop the specialized personnel, who is specialized in government's public administration, especially in terms of foreign management of public affairs, as well as foreign enterprises and administrative activities and other works. The students would have good foreign transaction processing capability, skillful proficiency in English as well as strong language skills. And they can use a variety of modern management methods and techniques to deal with the administrative management, especially in the administrative management of foreign affairs. Administrative Management (Foreign Economic Affairs Management direction): aims to develop the expertise, who could master management knowledge and skills of foreign economy field, possess an international perspective, engage in the management of the government, enterprises, social groups and international organizations, and also possess the ability to understand and execute the national policy.

Discipline Status

The major of administrative management mainly focus on the study of administrative activities and methods of public sectors, administrative organs, institutions and non-government public institutions, which is an application-oriented major combining theory and practice, emphasizing on students practical skills training. Currently, our college specializes in foreign administration management and foreign economic affairs management.

Students Employment

Aims to develop the specialized personnel, who is specialized in government's public administration, especially in terms of foreign management of public affairs, as well as foreign enterprises and administrative activities and other works.